Trip summary

Kangchenjunga is the world's third highest peak and this trek from the low foothills up to the North and South Base Camps can rightly be claimed as one of the most beautiful walks in the world. This is an incredible trek in the remote north eastern corner of Nepal through grand mountain scenery every bit as spectacular as that seen on the more widely trekked Annapurna and Everest regions. And, with the opening of basic tea houses along the trail, it is now possible to complete the trek without the need for camping.

Only a day into the trek and you will be in glorious scenery with wonderful views of mighty Kangchenjunga and her satellites in their full glory. Steadily gaining altitude, your trail to base camp will take you through forests, cultivated, terraced fields and small, sparsely populated villages where the local Rai or Limbu people will be delighted to welcome you.

The wild scenery around South Base Camp is simply stunning and you will be surrounded by glaciers, mountain lakes and ice-fluted peaks. You will also enjoy fabulous views of the entire south and west sides of Kangchenjunga. From here, it will take six further days of trekking, across airy passes of the Mirgin La and Sinion La, to reach the northern base camp of Kangchenjunga. The incredible, panoramic vistas from above the mountain's glacier are worth the exertions alone but you will undoubtedly relish the feeling of being somewhere totally wild and remote as well as the sense of achievement in having successfully reached your final objective.

Continuing to Ranipul, you still have several days of splendid trekking to enjoy before you re-enter civilisation and fly back to Kathmandu for a well-earned beer and time for rest and relaxation.

This is a challenging trip for the adventurous trekker, with trails that can be narrow and occasionally exposed. We have run this trek on many occasions and clients invariably come back saying this is one of the best treks they have ever experienced!

Kangchenjunga

When much of the Greater Himalaya remained hidden beyond borders closed to outsiders, access to Kangchenjunga was only possible through British-controlled India. The situation changed little when Nepal ended its self-imposed isolation in 1950 because it refused to grant access to Kangchenjunga to more than a handful of mountaineering expeditions. Only since 1988, have a limited number of commercialised trekking parties been allowed to explore the mountain's immediate environs.

Such restrictions have undoubtedly made a significant contribution to the preservation of the region's flora and fauna. A number of endangered species can be found in the vast forests and remote valleys including snow leopard, Himalayan black bear, musk deer, red panda and grey wolf.

Kangchenjunga's main peak and its immediate satellites take the form of a giant cross which straddles the borders of three countries, Nepal, Tibet, and the once independent kingdom, but now Indian state, of Sikkim. By virtue of the massif's almost total isolation from any other mountain group, precise definition of its boundaries is quite unnecessary. Until 1849, Kangchenjunga was thought to be the world's highest mountain, but today's accepted height of 8586m / 28,169ft ranks it third, after Everest and K2. In addition to the main peak, four subsidiary summits of Kangchenjunga also exceed 8,000m. This cluster of peaks is highly glaciated and cradles five major glacial systems, contributing to the spectacular high mountain scenery enjoyed on this trek.

Special notes

Tea houses on trek

Please note that the tea houses in this area are basic. None of the lodges have attached bathrooms. There are common toilets. Hot showers are only available in a few places. Kangchenjunga is one of the least populated and remote areas so please accept that facilities will be very basic.

Your trip itinerary

Day 1: Depart London.

Depart London on your overnight flight to Kathmandu.

Overnight: In flight

Day 2: Arrive Kathmandu. Group transfer to hotel.

You will be met on arrival at Kathmandu airport and taken to your hotel.

Overnight: Kathmandu Guest House or Similar, Kathmandu

Day 3: Morning flight to Bhadrapur. Drive to Phidim - 5-6 hours.

After breakfast, you will be transferred to the domestic terminal for the flight to Bhadrapur. Bhadrapur is the easternmost airport of Nepal close to the border between Nepal and India. After a scenic 45 minutes flight you arrive at Bhadrapur airport and will be met by the sherpa crew and begin your drive by local jeep. The drive starts from the warm subtropical Bhadrapur / Jhapa climbing slowly up to the alpine areas with green forests and lovely tea gardens. After a drive of 5-6 hours you stop at Phidim for your overnight stay at one of the basic tea houses.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 4: Drive to Khewang, 6-7 hours. Option to trek the final section of the journey into Khewang.

From Phidim you drive through Ganesh Chowk where you leave the main highway and enter a sub-road. The road is rather rough now but there is plenty of interest to divert you as you drive past villages and farmland. Passing through Hapu Khola you continue on to Banketar where, depending on the road and trail conditions, there may be an option to leave your vehicle behind and continue to Khewang by foot (your guide will discuss the options with you). If you trek into Khewang it will take a couple of hours. The trail passes through some attractive rural scenery and you will see the local culture of eastern Nepal where Limbu and Rai are the main inhabitants. Khewang (Khebang) is at an altitude of 1,915m. You will spend the night here in a simple tea house.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 5: Trek to Sherpagaon - 6-7 hours.

The trek continues on a trail with a gradual ascent to a small pass of 2,070m at Ekchana Bhanjyang and another pass of Ghatichinne Bhanjyang. In between you will join with the trail that comes from Mamamkhe. A new dirt road construction is underway in the area but vehicles have not started to run yet. You will enjoy the cultivated landscape with few settlements. Most people in this area are engaged in cardamom plantation on the wetlands which is main source of income in the area. The walk continues on a track to your stunning overnight stop at Sherpagaon.

Overnight: Tea house (Meals: BLD)

Day 6: Trek to Lasiya Bhanjyang, 3415m/11,204ft - 5 hours.

This morning begins with a very long ascent to cross the Deorali Danda ridge at a col at about 3,292m/10,800ft. The path winds its way uphill, steeply at first, through rhododendron thickets to a clearing at Chittre. The col when reached is broad and contains a small pool.

Overnight: Tea house (Meals: BLD)

Day 7: Trek to Torongten, 3,010m/9,875ft - 3-4 hours. Ascent 290m. Descent 670m.

There are views to the northwest of the summit of Jannu, and Kangchenjunga reveals itself at several points on the descent to the Simbua Khola. The initial part of the descent from the ridge has been subject to a landslide and requires care; the drop is considerable! The trail finally re-enters the forest for a pleasant and steady descent to the banks of the Simbu Khola. A walk of about an hour along the bank leads to a small bridge, which provides access to the north bank and a clearing known as Torongten.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 8: Trek to Tseram, 3,910m /12,828ft - 5-6 hours. Ascent 990m. Descent 60m.

The lower Lalung valley is thickly forested with pine and rhododendron and a good path follows the river northeast towards its source on the Yalung Glacier. Occasional tantalising views of the snowy mountains can be seen ahead. The trail follows the ever-widening riverbed and becomes an easy walk. Eventually, the terminal moraine of the Yalung Glacier comes into view, overlooked by the peaks of Talung, 7,349m/24,111ft, Kabru 7,338m/24,075ft and Rathong 6,678m/21,909ft. Tseram is a pleasant grassy spot on a small terrace about 50m above the north bank of the river.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 9: Trek to Oktang, Kangchenjunga South Base Camp, 4,780m/15,682ft, and return to Tseram - 9-10 hours. Ascent 900m. Descent 900m.

You will start early with hot drinks being served in your room before you hit the trail. The trail is steep for a short time until, after you have walked for an hour it turns into a more gentle slope and remains that way till the last point, Oktang Glacier. Some mild altitude will be felt but your crew will carry a portable gas stove to heat water for some hot drinks which, at that altitude, will be more than welcome.

A picnic lunch will be carried and served to you by your crew once you reach Ramche, either on the way up or on the way down depending on the group's progress. From Ramche you make a further trek to South Base Camp to obtain views of the south face of Kangchenjunga. Beyond Ramche the glacier turns north and this corner can be reached in about an hour over fairly level and easy going ground. At the corner a tremendous view opens up to include the entire south and west faces of Kangchenjunga which have previously been hidden during the recent stages of the walk-in. In a further hour a small track leads onto the lateral moraine of the Yalung Glacier and to a chorten from where there are unsurpassed views which include Kangchenjunga main summit, 8,686m/28,169ft, Yalung Kang, 8,505m/27,903ft, and Kamgbachen Peak, 7,903ft/25,928ft, at the head of the valley.

You retrace the same way back to your base at Tseram. This day is pretty long but you will have a rest day tomorrow.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 10: Rest day.

Today is time to rest and relax. You may like to do some washing or simply enjoy the scenery and recuperate ready for the next section of your trip.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 11: Cross the Mirgin La, 4026m/13,209ft, the Sinion La, 4,663m/15,298ft, and Sele La Pass, 4,200m/13,776ft and on to Sele Camp, 4,200m/13,779ft - 8-9 hours. Ascent 900m. Descent 630m.

Today you should be fresh after your rest day and ready for the exciting day. There is a vertical uphill immediately in front of Tseram and you will have a tough ascent of some two hours to reach Chhuchung Pokhari, a tiny icy lake. From here it is just a few minutes to reach the top of Sinelepcha Pass, and you will now have completed the toughest part of the ascent. From here there are stunning 360 degree views of the highest snow-capped peaks to the north and east and endless horizons of foothills to the south and west - a fabulous reward for a strenuous morning. From Sinelepcha Pass, the trail becomes comparatively easy and more gentle, crossing numerous passes including the Sele La.

After you have crossed several passes the trail then slowly starts to descend, with Kumbhakarna massif towering ahead of you, to Phedi.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 12: Trek to Ghunsa 3,140m, 11,187ft 3-4 hours

It is a long descent to Ghunsa through beautiful forest to a clearing on the lip of the Yamatori Valley. You then continue descending through pine and rhododendron forest to the village of Ghunsa. Ghunsa is a well-kept village of some thirty stone houses and has a police post. There is also a small Tibetan monastery here. This is the last proper village in the valley.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 13: Trek to Kambachen, 3,930m/12,894ft - 6-7 hours.

The trail now follows the floor of the valley beside the blue green waters of the infant Ghunsa Khola through scrub rhododendron and juniper. The terminal moraine of the Jannu glacier can be seen clearly ahead, although there is only ever the occasional glimpse of a snow covered peak. As the moraine is reached a small bridge gives access across the river to a tiny grassy clearing known as Rhambuk Kharka. The slopes above here are subject to landslide and rock fall and great care is needed to negotiate a steep traverse across one very large affected area. The views to the north and east gradually open out to include the peaks of Phole, Sobithonge and Jannu rising majestically above the moraines of the Jannu Glacier.

Beyond the landslide the trail levels, traverses the hillside and finally descends to the small summer settlement of Kambachen. Jannu is hidden from view at Kambachen, but the Sharphu group is now visible at the head of the valley.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 14: Trek to Lhonak, 4,575m/15,010ft - 8-9 hours.

The rough, but easy, trail continues up the west bank of the river, first across a small boulder field and then up a short, but easy snow slope to the level kharka of Ramtang. The view ahead becomes increasingly impressive, but attention is drawn to the upper reaches of the Ramtang Glacier, which feeds off Kambachen, the mighty western outlier of the Kangchenjunga massif. Another hour of level walking leads to the snout of the Kangchenjunga glacier across whose moraines Pyramid Peak rises, Tent Peak and Nepal Peak at the head of the valley. The terminal moraine and the river from the Lhonak Glacier enter from the north but present only a minor obstruction to access the level sandy and grassy plains at Lhonak. It can be a windy spot.

There are wonderful mountain views in all directions with the ice flutings of Wedge Peak and the snowy ramparts of Nepal and Tent Peaks presenting the ideal backdrop for a colourful sunset.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 15: Trek to Pangpema, Kangchenjunga North Base Camp, 4,903m/16,086ft, return to Lonak 8-9 hours.

Today is a spectacular day. The route to Pangpema from Lhonak is on a deceptively rising track which follows a shelf alongside the lateral moraine of the Kangchenjunga Glacier. The views are stunning as progress is made up the valley with Wedge, Nepal, Tent and Pyramid peaks all revealing themselves, along with the Sharphu peaks dominating the horizon down the valley. You continue to Pangpema where the view to the south opens up to reveal the Twins and, finally, the great north faces of Kangchenjunga and Yarlung Kang. Pangpema is located on a small grassy shelf above the glacier, the panoramic views are breathtaking from here. Prayer flags adorn a large boulder and there is a small plaque in memory of the American climber, Chris Chandler. You retrace your steps to Lonak.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 16: Trek to Ghunsa 3,410m/11,187ft - 6-7 hours.

You retrace your steps to Kambachen. It's about a four hour walk to Ghunsa from Kambachen. You walk along the west ridge of the Kambachen valley and hike down to the Ghunsa Khola, where there is a newly built suspension bridge over the river. There are superb views of the Kumbhakarna massif towering to the left side of the trail, and you have this glorious view for about half an hour, until the trail is enveloped in golden pine and various species of rhododendron.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 17: Trek to Gyabla, 2,725m/8,940ft and continue to Thangam - 6 hours.

You cross the Ghunsa Khola for one more time and walk on the trail alongside it. It's a pleasant walk through lush forest of pine, rhododendron, birch and Himalayan bamboo. There are small mani walls to be passed by every now and then. The small nomadic-type settlement of Phale is about an hour's distance away from Ghunsa. Phale is a tiny valley in the middle of nowhere.

Immediately after Phale, there is a huge expanse of landslide to go across, although there are no falling stones, making the passage safe. The remaining trail up to Gyabla is through dense and beautiful forest. It takes about 4 hours to reach Gyabla from Ghunsa and 3 hours from Phale.

Gyabla is a neatly kept tiny village where there are some small houses, a few great teahouses and a huge lodge with 40 rooms in it. There are high waterfalls in the distance, greenery everywhere and some cultivated landscape. You will notice the increase in oxygen here after being at high altitude.

You will then continue for a couple of hours walking by the riverside until you reach Thangam.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 18: Trek to Sekathum, 1,650m/5,413ft - 6-7 hours.

Today the walk is on a narrow trail with a gradual climb followed by a descent for 40 mins to reach Amjilassa. You will have lunch at Amjilassa and start descending to the Arun River. You cross the suspension bridge and follow other on a trail the other side of the river. You continue following the river until reaching Lamatar for 40 mins, with views of beautiful waterfalls. After walking for another 30 mins from Lamatar, you cross another suspension bridge. You continue following the Arun River for another hour to another suspension bridge. You cross it and walk for another 30 mins to meet the final suspension bridge. After crossing the bridge and walking for 15 mins this brings you arrive at Sekathum.

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 19: End trek at Ranipul and drive to Suketar - 4-5 hours drive.

After breakfast, you walk for 10 mins to cross a small suspension called "Ranipul" over the Tamur River to meet the vehicle on the other side. From here you drive for 4-5 hours to reach Suketar for your overnight stop. (this is the village close to the Taplejung airstrip).

Overnight: Tea House (Meals: BLD)

Day 20: Drive to Kanyam Tea Garden, 6-7 hours drive.

Drive to Kanyam arriving at approximately 3.00 pm with lunch at Phidim. In the afternoon you will visit the local tea garden with views of Kanchenjunga and Jannu.

Overnight: Tea house (Meals: BLD)

Day 21: Drive to Bhadrapur - 7 hours. Late afternoon flight to Kathmandu.

Today you drive to Bhadrapur for your flight back to Kathmandu. On arrival you will be met at the airport and transferred to your hotel. The rest of the day is at leisure.

Our grading system

Kangchenjunga North & South Base Camps is graded as a Strenuous trekking holiday, as described below.

Strenuous

Our strenuous trekking holidays can involve anything from 10 to 30 days on trek and are often in remote areas, far from 'civilisation'. Rest days are interspersed but there may be up to 7 consecutive days of hard walking. Most treks reach altitudes of at least 4,900m/16,000ft and there will be a great deal of ascent and descent. The majority of our strenuous treks utilise camping, tea house or mountain lodge accommodation.

These holidays are suitable for fit individuals who have regular experience of mountain walking.

Trip altitude

Important - please be aware that this trip involves travel at altitude. Whilst all our itineraries are carefully designed to optimise acclimatisation to high altitudes, participants on this trip are likely to experience some symptoms of being at altitude. The Dossier pack we provide when you book your holiday includes comprehensive advice on safe travel at altitude. If you require further information or advice on travel at altitude prior to booking please contact the office to speak to an experienced member of our team. Alternatively we recommend www.medex.org.uk as a good source of information.

Water-to-Go Reusable Bottle Campaign

We have joined the campaign to help cut down on the use of plastics and, in particular, single-use water bottles. To do this we have teamed up with the revolutionary company, Water-to-Go who have developed a multi-use drinking bottle with a reusable filter that eliminates over 99.9% of all microbiological contaminants. This makes water from virtually any source safe to drink and significantly reduces the need for travellers to buy bottles of water wherever they are in the world.

For our clients who are not given a free Mountain Kingdoms kit bag (these are required for certain treks), we offer a free Water-to-Go bottle. If you would like to purchase a Water-to-Go bottle they are available from us at a discounted rate.

Your accommodation

Hotels

We will endeavour to secure the hotels named in the itinerary but if our first choice of hotel is not available we will book a suitable alternative of a similar standard.

Kathmandu Guest House, Kathmandu

The Kathmandu Guest House is a 4* hotel situated right in the heart of Thamel - the tourist hub of the city. Known as Kathmandu's 'original hotel' it has been extensively renovated over recent years and has good quality rooms, a spa, gardens and a restaurant. The hotel also houses the excellent Museum of Nepali Art (MONA) which showcases traditional and contemporary works of art - admission is free for Mountain Kingdoms guests.

Tea Houses

The rooms in tea houses are simple but comfortable. Most bedrooms have twin beds and mattresses. Sleeping bags are provided by our agent. There is a communal dining area, warmed by a wood or yak-dung burning stove, where most trekkers relax for the evening. There are also simple toilets and, in some cases, the opportunity to have a hot shower. Please see the Special Note on Page 4.

For various reasons, it is not possible to guarantee single rooms in tea houses. If you are travelling without a companion and would like a single this may sometimes be possible upon payment of a small supplement on the spot (usually around $10). Alternatively, if the tea house has an odd number of guests on the night you may be lucky and find yourself in a room on your own. However it is more likely you will share with someone (of the same sex obviously). This would most likely be someone within your group but when the tea houses are busy, it could even be someone else. Be prepared for this! We do however offer the option of a single room in your hotel in Kathmandu for a supplement.

Meal arrangements

Bed and breakfast in Kathmandu, all meals on trek.

Flight arrangements

Flight inclusive from price

Our 'Flight inclusive from' price is based on the best fare available at the time of printing. As airfares change on a constant basis, this should be used only as a guide price. Rest assured that, at the time of booking, we will endeavour to get the best possible price for the flights you need. Remember, the earlier you book the greater your chances of securing the best fare.

Flight inclusive packages booked through Mountain Kingdoms are protected through our ATOL bonding scheme.

Flight upgrades and regional Airports

Please call us on +44 (0)1453 844400 for flight options from regional UK airports, Business Class upgrades, alternative airlines and stopovers. Please also check our website for the most up to date flight inclusive 'from' prices.

Further information

When we receive your booking, we send you a full Trip Dossier which contains details of any visas and vaccinations required, a suggested gear and clothing list and lots of useful information. If you do have queries at this initial stage do call us on 01453 844400 and we will be pleased to offer advice.

The nature of adventure travel

Every effort will be made to keep to this itinerary but we cannot guarantee that things may not change, either before you travel or while you are away. By its very nature, adventure travel involves an element of the unexpected, particularly in more remote areas. A variety of factors such as adverse weather conditions, changes to local schedules and difficulties with transportation can all contribute to the need to make changes to the itinerary, often at the very last minute. Our Operations Manager and your Trip Leader will make every effort to maintain the integrity of the original itinerary and minimise the impact of any changes, but an easy-going and flexible nature is a real asset! Please note that all timings and distances given are approximate.

What our clients say

As my second trip to Nepal after Everest Base Camp, I must say it has been an incredible adventure. This trek takes you to a very remote region, with very different landscapes (from tropical rainforests to dramatic Himalayan peaks), passing through low-populated valleys where people are friendly and genuine. Be prepared to long days with many ascents and descents. The route to the Base Camps is blessed with incredible autumn colours in Oct-Nov. Kangchenjunga is well hidden behind a curtain of incredible rocky walls towering 7.000 mt (Chang Himal face is amazing and very close, when you walk on the edge of the glacier). Our guide Raj, the 2 sirdars and the cook were very attentive, and all the porters did a great and tough job. Finally, MK was very good in solving the logistic difficulties related to the remoteness of the region. Definitely recommended if you want to experience remote far Eastern Nepal.

-Mr S Z, Italy

What I enjoyed was the fact that the standard of care was as good, if not better, than all the times I have been to the Himalaya, particularly Nepal. Our guide was excellent, we were well looked after.

-Mr B, Wales

The other guys on the trek were very good company as was our trek leader Cshiring Sherpa who was most attentive to us. He was always cheerful, helpful and informative and appeared to have the respect of the cooks and porters. The local people were friendly and interested in us and sometimes enjoyed testing their limited English.

-Mr C, Surrey

I can only say that I enjoyed every minute of the adventure with an excellent group of individuals who became fellow trekkers and friends. An excellent experience made possible by MK's professional and personal attention to detail and planning.

- Mr J M, Oxford

For organisation, scenery and general walking this is probably the best trek I have done.

-Mr D Q, Dublin

The mountain views on this trek were outstanding. The days to the viewpoints were long, but well worth the effort. The route taken by the trek allowed for good acclimatisation, and an interesting variety of landscapes as you progress towards the high mountains.

Mountain Kingdoms - distinctly different

Truly independent

In an age where many so-called 'independent' travel companies have in fact been bought out by multi-national giants, we remain fiercely independent with all the benefits this offers our clients.

Value for money prices with an emphasis on quality

We are not in the business of cutting our itineraries and services to the bone to offer eye-catching cheap prices. We use some of the best airlines, and typically 3 or 4 star hotels in cities. We include the majority of meals and private transport for road travel. We use excellent equipment and appoint well-trained staff and leaders. Last year, over 98% of our clients rated their Mountain Kingdoms holiday as 'excellent' or 'good'. We are members of AITO and bound by their quality charter.

Complete financial security

You can book with us confident that your holiday has full financial protection. Flight inclusive holidays are financially protected by the Civil Aviation Authority under ATOL licence number 2973 and 'Land Only' holidays are covered by a bond secured with ABTOT.

No Surcharge Guarantee

Your peace of mind is important to us so we have a No Surcharge Guarantee on all Land Only and Flight Inclusive bookings. This means that there will be no change to the price of your holiday once we have confirmed your booking, regardless of fluctuations in exchange rates or fuel prices.

Award winning Responsible Tourism

We feel strongly that all our holidays should benefit local communities, protect the environment and respect local traditions, religion and heritage. You can read more about the charities we support and our Responsible Tourism commitments and initiatives on the following page or at www.mountainkingdoms.com.

Genuine small group travel

Almost all of our holidays have a maximum group size of just 12, plus leader. This provides more contact with your leader, readier access to off-the-beaten-path areas, greater interaction with local communities and a reduced environmental impact.

Loyalty Discount

If you have previously travelled with us we recognise your loyalty with a discount on future trips.

Booking your holiday - it couldn't be easier

Once you've chosen your Mountain Kingdoms holiday you can book online, call the office or complete and post a booking form which can be found in our brochure or downloaded from our website. If you would like to hold a place on one of our trips, whilst you make up your mind, please give us a call to make a provisional booking. This is a no-obligation, no-cost booking and we will hold your place until space comes under pressure or we need your decision.

Comprehensive information

When we receive your booking we send you a full trip dossier which contains details of visas and vaccinations, gear and clothing list and lots of useful information. In fact, everything you need to be at ease and allow you to prepare for your trip of a lifetime.

RESPONSIBLE TOURISM STATEMENT

CLIMATE EMERGENCY PLAN

For over 33 years, Mountain Kingdoms has been offering people the chance to visit amazing places on this extraordinary planet. We now offer trips to all corners of the world, but we are conscious that inevitably our holidays have a detrimental impact on the world around us, and we want to do all we can to reduce our carbon emissions. We are a signatory to Tourism Declares a Climate Emergency, along with a growing number of like-minded, reputable tour operators. For more information, please visit www.tourismdeclares.com

From 2020 onwards, we will be focusing on how we can reduce the carbon emissions that our holidays produce, and how to counterbalance this carbon by supporting carbon offset measures. Here are some of our current and future plans to minimise the impact of our business as a whole:

Carbon Offsetting

Already doing:

- ✓ We have been offsetting carbon since 2007, but will be increasing our donations to the Ecoan tree planting project in Peru this year. This is with a trusted partner where the funds go directly to a project where the community plants trees on its own land.

Will do:

- ✓ We are working on making our carbon offsetting more accurate and targeted.
- ✓ In future, we will add to that a further estimate for carbon produced by hotels, local road travel, trains and internal flights to arrive at a carbon offset sum for each trip we operate.
- ✓ Carbon offsetting will be included in our holiday prices. For our Flight Inclusive holidays it will include the international flight and any emissions produced by inland travel and accommodation. Our Land Only prices will include the cost of offsetting emissions caused by inland travel and accommodation.

Reducing Carbon Emissions

Already doing:

- ✓ We already offer the majority of our customers a free filtered water bottle which means they can instantly cut down on their single-use plastic consumption. This will be an ongoing project.
- ✓ We already predominantly use locally owned hotels, but will continue to ensure that, where possible, we use these rather than multinational chains.
- ✓ We have joined the Tourism Declares a Climate Emergency initiative to stand alongside like-minded travel companies, to work together to initiate best practices to make tourism as sustainable as possible.

Will do:

- ✓ We will re-evaluate our flights to make sure we are using the most fuel efficient airlines with the youngest fleets and, where possible, direct flights for each trip.
- ✓ We will stop offering unnecessary optional flights – for example our Everest sightseeing trip.
- ✓ We will eliminate unnecessary staff flights wherever possible.
- ✓ We will look at minimising internal flights.
- ✓ We will be asking all our worldwide agents and suppliers to look at their own carbon footprint and encourage them to reduce it.
- ✓ We will promote our more low impact trips to give customers an informed choice.

As part of our wider commitment to Responsible Tourism, we will continue to support a number of charities with whom we have had a long standing relationship over many years. These include: Shiva Charity in Nepal (Ginette Harrison School), Simien Mountains Mobile Medical Service and Porter Welfare, as well as setting aside a sum for emergency disaster relief should the need arise.
